Our Savior's Lutheran Church and School • San Clemente, California

"Inspired to Love, Encouraged to Think, and Sent to Serve"

So What Are You Thankful For?

Here we are once again coming into the time of Thanksgiving and so it seems only appropriate to take an inventory of that which we are to be thankful for here at Our Savior's. You may have your own list but this comes from a pastor's pen!

First a disclaimer, I am going to take for granted the 'big things'--the love of God in Jesus Christ, family, friends, and nation. Not take for granted in the negative sense; but in the sense that I think all of us can usually identify those major areas of thanksgiving. No, instead I want to look at some of those things that usually fly under the radar.

First of all I'm thankful for people who smile while driving instead of looking as if they are trying to be cast in the next episode of the "Walking Dead." Truly, I'm not sure why everyone looks so angry as they drive around? If you are one of those people who can actually smile behind the wheel--thank you.

Next I'm thankful for those little acts of kindness that happen randomly at any given time. Case and point this past week I witnessed an adult stop and take seriously the plight of a child. Many would have just walked away; figured it wasn't their business; but this person stopped, listened, offered appropriate help and then saw it through to completion. If you are one of those people who have taken time out of your schedule and acted in love, just because--thank you.

As the Frohner family is approaching a new point in our lives with a child preparing for college I am thankful for all of you who have helped us parent, loved our kids, prayed for them, acted kindly toward them, learned their names and generally have served as a community of love and support. I can't imagine raising children in this world without the loving support of a church family, so for all of you who have loved and cared for my family--thank you.

Finally for those whether through confirmation training or just divine graces have come to live out Luther's explanation of the 8th commandment. "We are to fear and love God, so that we do not tell lies about our neighbors, betray or slander them, or destroy their reputations. Instead we are to come to their defense, speak well of them, and interpret everything they do in the best possible light." For you who live this---blessed are you among angels and mortals--Thank you! Amen.

What are you thankful for?

Peace!

Pastor Jeff

Pastor Jeff and Family

"As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them." – John F. Kennedy

I read these words and they really resonated with me. We often hear about living with an "attitude of gratitude". But what does this mean?

At this busy time of year, may people become preoccupied with getting it done: the cooking, the shopping, the cards, the parties... However, what are the important things we need to get done? As I think about the important things, most of them do not have to do with holiday "stuff". I encounter the important things in my life 365 days a year – not just during the last couple months of each calendar year.

Serving others is one way to do an important thing and not just during the "Holidays". Here are some benefits of volunteering (www.volunteer.org):

- ♦ Gain Experience: working in the field or a position that has transferable skills will help you become more experienced when you are looking for that job.
- ♦ Resume Building: add volunteering to your resume. Businesses, either for or not for profit, want to see you that you've been busy, so show them how you took the initiative to volunteer at a local nonprofit and be specific of what you did. Being the leader or creating a new and helpful tool will prove to the potential employer that you are an asset to their organization.
- ♦ Gain New Skills: work experience is invaluable; there are some things you can't learn in school. So by volunteering, you are in a new environment, observing people in their jobs and hopefully you are given tasks that challenge you. If not, ask!
- ♦ Try It On: try something you are interested in. This way, if you don't like it, you'll know before you take classes or apply for the job and then realize it's not what you want to do as a career.

- ♦ Meet People: not only do you get to gain experience, but you meet people who can be a potential reference when your job hunting if you made the right impression, or they may recommend a place to apply. Let them know you are looking and ask for them to be on your list of references, after you've shown them what you can do!
- ♦ Potential Job: This may lead to a job. Nonprofits make up a large percentage of organizations in Sonoma County, and therefore many jobs are found there. Prove what you can do, and they may find funding to keep you.
- ♦ Job Hunting 101: See every step as a practice for when you job hunt. From the initial conversation on the phone when you introduce yourself, to the showing up on the scheduled time to volunteer, this is like a job and a good time to practice how you present yourself and are seen. Take it all as a learning opportunity.
- ♦ Thinking of College?: College applications ask for community service. But since it's getting more competitive, not only do you show your volunteer time, but you need to stand out by taking a leadership role or again, creating something new that addresses a need in the community.
- ♦ Feel Great About Making A Difference!: Lastly, but more importantly, volunteering leads you to find the joy of serving others and helping to improve our local community. Make a difference, meet people, gain new skills, and add a whole new experience awaits you- Volunteer!

In His Service ~
Karen Skipper,
Director of Music

This "Coffee with Jesus" cartoon made me think about all I have to be grateful for. We can all show our gratitude for what we have been given by passing it on to someone else.

Another Music Note...

In my life outside Our Savior's, I work as a music therapist. I work primarily with older people many of whom have some form of dementia. As we approach the holidays, many of us will spend time with family members at social gatherings. The Alzheimer's Association states that in 2014, friends and family of people with Alzheimer's and other dementias provided an estimated 17.9 billion hours of unpaid care, a contribution to the nation valued at $217.7 billion. This is approximately 46 percent of the net value of Walmart sales in 2013 and nearly eight times the total revenue of McDonald's in 2013. (www.alz.org/facts).

If you have someone in your life who has dementia, here are some hints from the Alzheimer's Association on how best to communicate with them: Some dos and don'ts for effective communication:

DON'T

- Don't reason
- Don't argue
- Don't confront
- Don't remind them they forget
- Don't question recent memory
- Don't take it personally

DO

- Give short, one sentence explanations
- Allow plenty of time for comprehension... then triple it
- Repeat instructions of sentences exactly the same way
- Eliminate "but" from your vocabulary, substitute "nevertheless"
- Avoid insistence – try again later
- Agree with them or distract them to a different subject or activity
- Accept the blame when something's wrong (even if it's a fantasy)
- Leave the room, if necessary, to avoid confrontations
- Respond to the feelings rather than the words
- Be patient, cheerful, and reassuring
- Go with the flow
- Practice 100% forgiveness

One of the greatest joys in my work is finding who I call the person inside. If you will be spending time with loved ones with dementia, share your stories with them. Include them in celebrations as appropriate (many times a large, loud gathering is just too much stimulation). But most of all, honor them for the person they are and always have been – regardless of what their disease has taken from them.

Enjoy your holidays!

Youth and Children's Ministry

by Bob Cooper - Director of Youth and Children's Ministries

Finally Fall

Awesome! November has arrived and it is finally starting to feel like Fall around here. Let me bring you up to speed on what "those kids" are up to these days; in mid-October the youth group sponsored our 5th annual Chili Cook-off but this year it was NOT a fundraiser but rather simply a fun event to get together and say "Thank you" for all of your support during our past fund raising events. It was a good time and of course the chili was delicious. Also in mid-October the middle school youth group joined our friends from Lutheran Church of the Resurrection (Huntington Beach) for the annual Middle School Late Nighter! We enjoyed Bowling followed by many hours of go-kart racing, laser tag, rock wall climbing, miniature golf... it was a blast! I was really impressed at how well our two groups mingled and joined each other, you'd never guess that these kids came from two different congregations; it was a wonderful thing to see. At the end of October we will again hold the much loved "Trick or Trunk" Halloween event including many decorated car trunks as well as the "Haunted Youth Room, carnival style games, and a pizza dinner.

As we move into November I would like to take a moment and give thanks to all of the faithful adults that help to make the youth ministry here at Our Savior's so special. Whether you help with our weekly meetings, drive to special events, plan and serve meals for the Gilchrist house and welcome inn, teach Sunday school, assist with the youth band, or any of the other ways that keep our youth ministry running I say a heartfelt "Thank you". Youth ministry runs on adult volunteers and I truly cannot do it without you.

If you would like to get involved in our youth ministry but are not sure how or if you have the necessary skills to do so let me tell you, you do have the skills, and all you need to do is let me know that you would like to be involved and I'd be happy to have you on the team!

Again, the biggest "Thank you" I can muster to our adult sponsors and a giant open arms welcome to anyone considering getting involved; I'm looking forward to a blessed holiday season.

Feeling thankful,

Bob Cooper

ELCA MALARIA CAMPAIGN: WE DID IT!!!!

We have incredible news! The ELCA Malaria Campaign just reached its fundraising goal of $15 million! Thank you for being a part of this monumental milestone and helping us protect countless lives from this preventable, treatable disease.

We couldn't have done it without you!

Five years ago ELCA members, congregations and synods came together, dreamed big with our Lutheran companion churches and partners, and set out to raise $15 million for malaria programming.

Today we celebrate all that we have accomplished together.

Working with our Lutheran companions and partners in 13 African countries, we have brought about lasting change. But our work is not over. While the ELCA Malaria Campaign will come to an end on Jan. 31, 2016, our commitment to ending deaths from this disease will not. In the coming years, support to our companions and partners to address malaria will come through gifts to ELCA World Hunger, which has a long history of supporting health-related work.

Without you, none of this would have been possible.

Thank you for your prayers, your partnership and your support
